Senior Exploration Geologist

- New Gold Development Company
- Excellent Career Opportunity

Aphrodite Gold Limited is a new gold exploration and development company formed for the purpose of acquiring and bringing into production the advanced Aphrodite Gold Project near Kalgoorlie in Western Australia.

The project has a substantial JORC compliant resource and other targets showing strong potential for growing resources for a sustained open pit and underground mining operation.

Processing plants are located close-by which may facilitate an early start up in production. Preparation for listing of Aphrodite Gold on the ASX is at an advanced stage with listing expected to occur in mid 2010.

An aggressive drill program leading to feasibility studies is planned during the first two years of listing. Aphrodite Gold is now seeking to build a dynamic and highly professional technical team, with the initial requirement for an experience Senior Exploration Geologist.

Reporting to the Executive Director of Exploration and Development, this significant and challenging position will require you to manage and coordinate all aspects of Aphrodite Gold exploration activities. Responsibilities will include evaluating gold bearing ore bodies, developing strategies and systems, management and development of the drill programs and providing effective team leadership.

You will also have significant input into the strategic growth of the project utilising your knowledge and experience gained from working on previous exploration activities. Ideally, with a strong background in gold exploration and a tertiary qualification in Geology, you will be a highly committed and ambitious person, who is be able to demonstrate extensive experience in managing exploration programs.

In return you will receive a competitive remuneration package and the opportunity to embark on a highly rewarding and satisfying project.
